Stephanie Kirkham, When You Were Here

Hears the baby awake, leaves her feelings under the covers Another day without her lover Always finds a smile for the sunshine in her life Making tea for one, why bother?

Tonight her friends are coming round She said they're coming to hide me Tell me what they think I need Oh you know where to find me baby