

Steve Angello, Wasted Love (ft. Dougy from The

Danny was a young girl, but since she lived the hungry lives
Down the street from old town, in a cloud of smoke he caught her eyes
Never will they wonder, never will they be the same inside
Then she kissed him softly, and walked within the stillness of the night

Wasted love, why do I always give so much?
Wasted love, you know I gave you all my heart
Wasted love, can't help but always give too much
But it's never enough

Still her ghost, is lingering
Down that dusty road, of broken dreams
I tried my luck, on a little flame
But she became the fire within

Wasted love, why do I always give so much?
Wasted love, you know I gave you all my heart
Wasted love, can't help but always give too much
But it's never enough
Wasted love, why do I always give so much?
But it's never enough
