

Stock 7, Switch

Voices speakin' clearly yet undefined.

I got so many choices every day it's like wastin' time.

Lay down let me love you one more time.

Apathy is a virtue in my mind.

Pre chorus:

She took me high, she took me low where I wanted to go.

Although never did she know my intention not to mention the suspension was catching' up.

So often do we hide the beast in us.

One time should've been enough for me.

Two times would have had to set you free.

Three time on your own, better off dead and you really should have listened the first time I said

Chorus:

You should have never made the change.

I'm like a needle to the vein.

Just when you thought I stayed the same

I blew my cover.

No, my self esteem was so low

my self esteem was so low

my self esteem was so low

And never will I let this go

No, my self esteem was so low

No, my self esteem was so low

No, my self esteem was so low

And never will I let this go...

Switch! (Oppose the opposition)

Bitch! (Avoid my premonition)

Fuck you undo

all the lies I see right through you.

Switch! (Oppose the opposition)

Bitch! (Avoid my premonition)

Fuck you undo

all the lies I see right through you.

Tempted one more time above the truth untold.

Truth is little boy just needs someone to hold.

I'm here little angel let's fly away Yeah.

Strip you of every last purity that ever came your way.
