Stone Sour, Gone Sovereign

No ones laughing now No ones laughing now I'm so late to say it And you can't put a price on me

I won't share this disarray I won't pull these hands away I need to be chosen and my god, don't break from me!

So scatter all my ashes when I'm dead And shatter every legend in my head If following the command means we'll survive Is anybody here still left alive?

This is mine!

Come no further, You'll go to far! I'm running around in circles once again If you can forgive me, I won't take it very hard But I won't make it easy in the end

So scatter all my ashes when I'm dead And shatter every legend in my head If following the command means we'll survive Is anybody here still left alive!?

This is mine! This is mine! Yeah!

So scatter all my ashes when I'm dead And shatter every legend in my head If following the command means we'll survive Is anybody here still left alive?

This is mine! Mine! Mine! Mine!
