

Stratovarius, Kill It With Fire

Alone in the prison I made of my mind like many mornings before I stare in the ceiling until I go blind it's hard to take anymore I ask from the fools how they slumber away with all the evil around but no one can answer and no one can say and there's no peace to be found

A slumbering demon awakes in the night an ocean away
kill it with fire! Burning higher!

At five in the morning I'm drowning my fears it seems the right thing to do a blanket of calm in this valley of tears tomorrow rises anew

A slumbering demon awakes in the night an ocean away
kill it with fire! Burning higher!

Like cockroaches baking in sunlight of day the world is bustling along while lawyers and bankers are nibbling away we have to try to stay strong

A slumbering demon awakes in the night an ocean away
kill it with fire! Burning higher!
