

Suede, The Sadness In You, The Sadness In Me

There's glass on the bed where they broke you
They broke you, but you were unbent
You always had change for the waiter
You think he's your friend

It's time to step from the page
And let's rip up this perfect day
It's time to push it away
And let's rip up this perfect day

When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives
When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives

And these are the ways they adore you
And this is your moment of truth
So step from the page
And the whole damn world is waiting for you

It's time to step from the page
And let's rip up this perfect day
It's time to push it away
And let's rip up this perfect day

When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives
When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives

The sadness in you and the sadness in me
And when the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives

It's time to step from the page
And let's rip up this perfect day
It's time to push it away
And let's rip up this perfect day

When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives
When the sadness in you meets the sadness in me
Let's start changing our lives
