

Supergarage, Once It Starts It Starts

You were so innocent, a model citizen, in a world of your own
All your feelings dreams and thoughts were disciplined
Now you're curious, you want experience
You taste the flavour the thrill and for one fine moment be so free
In 30 seconds you'll be checking in emergency,
You'll see, guilty ridden, self addicted

Once it starts it starts
I'll pay the penalty, nothing good can come for free,
I'll spend a lifetime alone, just to know what makes me feel, so real
Half alive still we drive,
Arriving on one wheel, I will, push the button, gimme somethin
Once it starts it starts
