

Sylver, The smile has left yours eyes

Words, are sometimes hard to find
Silence, can be so unkind
You play with love like you play with words
Can't you see it's me you've hurt
Now my dreams turn into dust
It wasn't love, it was only lust

Chorus

You're not the same
You're playing game
You've filled my heart with your lies
You're not the same
You're playing game

The Smile Has Left Your Eyes

Words, are sometimes hard to find
Silence, can be so unkind
You play with love like you play with words
Can't you see it's me you've hurt
Love is always losing game
I pack my bags and forget your name
