

Syndicate Dream, Whatever You Please

Would you like to see something I wrote ten years ago?
Would you like to go and meet a friend that I used to know?
Oh, Let me take a walk where I used to live
There's not much else that I want to give
That's alright, we can do whatever you please

Would you like to take convictions over a cheap bottle of wine?
You could tell me yours, not come up with mine
There's nothing you can do that I wouldn't allow
You could try to hurt me, but you wouldn't know how
That's alright, we can do whatever you please

Well, I used to care, that was a long time ago
It used to bother me, it does not bother me anymore
Oh, you're so strong and you believe
You can hold me close until you wanna leave
I don't mind, we can do whatever you please
I don't mind we can do whatever you please
Oh, that's alright we can do whatever you please
