

Taking Back Sunday, Flicker, Fade

If you should change your name
I'll love you just the same
And if you should run away
I would save your place
so you can go, go, go if you want to
I wouldn't try and stop you
I couldn't say I blame you

Flicker flicker fade
Destroy what you create
And wonder why it always ends the same
you wonder why it always ends the same

When I said "I hate that song"
About fire and sex you love
I couldn't tell you why
Why I did it, why I lied
I know it's wrong, wrong, wrong
It's evil but true
It's what I want to make you
So I can say I blame you
So I can say I blame you

Flicker flicker fade
Destroy what you create
And wonder why it always ends the same
Flicker flicker fade
Destroy what you create
And wonder why it always ends the same
You wonder why it always ends
You wonder why it always ends the same

You live your life
Like you're not in control.
Like you're playing alone
You live? your life
Like you're not in control
Like you're playing all wrong

You wonder why it always ends the same
You wonder why it always ends
Destroy what you create
Wonder why it always ends
It always ends the same
