

Tapping The Vein, All My Heart

There's faster ways of killing me
If you needed me to bleed
You didn't have to give my angel those broken knees

And if you felt you had to punish me
You could have taken anything
You didn't have to hang my little angel from a string

I've been calling all night
And there wasn't any answer
Something inside me won't let go
I believe my life is over
This is all that my heart can take

I could have found a way of working this out
All you had to do was say
Did you really think that I would rather See my light go down in chains?

I've been calling all night
And there wasn't any answer
Something inside me won't let go
I believe my life is over
This is all that my heart can take

Say he rolled over
Say he's alive
Say it's not over
Say it's a lie

Something inside me won't let go
I believe my life is over
This is all that my heart...

I've been calling all night
And there wasn't any answer
Something inside me won't let go
I believe my life is over
This is all that my heart can take
