Tate McRae, don't come back

Yeah, if you wanna go ahead and lie to me

Throw it all out now, that's fine with me, uh If I'm not enough for you, honestly

I hope you don't come back

When you see that I'm better off

When you're all broke down and you're missing us

When you finally figure out just what you lost

I hope you don't come back

I can feel you shutting off now

Like I always expected you would

Stop believing all your friends now

'Cause they all say that you get bored

I feel it

You're about to cut me out your life

I feel it

Just know that there's no second try

Yeah, if you wanna go ahead and lie to me

Throw it all out now, that's fine with me, uh

If I'm not enough for you, honestly

I hope you don't come back

When you see that I'm better off

When you're all broke down and you're missing us

When you finally figure out just what you lost

I hope you don't come back

You can see me shutting off now (off now)

I don't know what else you'd expect

Really thought I knew you so well (so well)

Should've known that's what I'd get

For thinking that you cared at all

I bet you'll blame it on the alcohol again

Don't be acting so surprised when you see there's no second try

Yeah, if you wanna go ahead and lie to me

Throw it all out now, that's fine with me, uh

If I'm not enough for you, honestly

I hope you don't come back

When you see that I'm better off

When you're all broke down and you're missing us

When you finally figure out just what you lost

I hope you don't come back

When you haven't heard from me in forever

Don't come back

When you find out there's nobody better

Don't come back (no)

No, don't come back, yeah

Yeah, if you wanna go ahead and lie to me

Throw it all out now, that's fine with me