

Taylor Swift, right where you left me

Friends break up
Friends get married Strangers get born Strangers get buried Trends change Rumors fly through news skies but I'm right where you left me

Matches burn
After the other Pages turn
And stick to each other Wages earned
And lessons learned but I'm right where you left me

Help
I am still at the restaurant
Still sitting in the corner
I haunt
Cross legged in the dim light
They say: What a sad sight
I swear you could hear a hair pin drop
Right when i felt the moment stop
Glass shatteres on the white cloth
Everybody move on
I stay their Dust collected on y pinned up hair
They expected me to find somewhere
Some perspective
Bu i sat and stared right where

you left me
you left me no
you left me no
you left me no choice
but ot stay here forever
you left me
you left me no
you left me no
you left me no choice
but ot stay here forever

did you ever hear about the girl who got frozen?
Time went on
For everybody else
She won't know it
She's still 23
Inside her fantasy
How it was supposed to be did you ever hear about the girl who lives in delusion?
Breakups happen every day
You don't have to lose it
She's still 23
Inside her fantasy
And you're sitting in front of me
At the restaurant
When i was still one you want
Cross legged in the dim light
Everything was just right
I could feel the mascara run
You told me that you met someone
Glass shatteres on the white cloth
Everybody move on

I am still at the restaurant

Help

I am still at the restaurant

Still sitting in the corner

I haunt

Cross legged in the dim light

They say: What a sad sight

I swear you could hear a hair pin drop

Right when i felt the moment stop

Glass shatteres on the white cloth

Everybody move on

I stay their

Dust collected on y pinned up hair

They expected me to find somewhere

Some perspective

Bu i sat and stared right where

you left me

you left me no

you left me no

you left me no choice

but ot stay here forever

you left me

you left me no

you left me no

you left me no choice

but ot stay here forever