Team Sleep, 11/11

not even fair to box away those old faces not even close to the way it was then when everyone would stay away from you how everyone would stay away from you and I don't remember how just the way the water fell down there could make you cry half these embers flew away into the dry brushes they were taken by the fire that sound drifting off outside there's and unlight drizzle going on that sound faucets off hang me out the window no resolve its all away

that sound faucets off hang me out the window no resolve

for every piece of rice that falls another one falls in your shorts eliminate the stasis burden, eliminate the stasis burden if everyone was like lou rawls then no more guys would sing with drawls relax the goods, alright relax the goods, alright when everyone would stay away fom you when everyone would stay away fom you
