

Temperance, Into the Void

Not too far from Hermitage
Anningan is waiting to build a new path
With his only follower to fulfill his wish
But what does he want from Viktor? We really don't know

Not too far from Hermitage
Anningan is waiting to build a new path
With his only follower to fulfill his wish
But what does he want from Viktor? We really don't know

How many times did you believe the stories you've been told?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you, everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again

How many times have you reached the goals you set before?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again

Help me defeat those who have the power now
Help me show the lies with no single rhyme

Anningan is waiting to make contact with his new follower to fulfill his wish

How many times have you believed the stories you have been told?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you, everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again

How many times have you reached the goals you set before?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again

What does he want from Viktor

I didn't know what was real
I'm fighting with reality
And I feel like I need to discover
Everything about this

Can you remember the past?
What's left in your mind of those moments
What happened before Anningan's
Darkness took over his mind

Most of our memories
Have faded away into the void
But we all dream almost the same
A magic place where people and animals
Stay together like they heard a call

Most of our memories
Have faded away into the void
But we all dream almost the same place where all...
Help me defeat those who have the power now

I don't know what was real
I'm duelling with reality
I feel like I need to find out
About everything

Can you remember the past?

What's left in your mind of those moments
Before the dark side overcame you
Will my mind hold on to prayer?

How many times have you believed the stories you have been told?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you, everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again

How many times have you reached the goals you set before?
How many times have you been fooled? Pay attention to the world
Around you everything is about to change
Nothing will ever be the same again
