

Temporary Basement, If You Ask

we'll wait right here and watch each wasted word fade though i still believe that i can't run away from each mistake i've made i've made closed eyes will find the cuts we didn't mean - i know we've said the fabric ripped, but i can never mend this tear my arms won't bend won't bend

if you ask how I felt now
with attempts that we've tried when all that we've fought for falls through

it's been weeks since I've seen you since I saw you walk away and all that we've fought for

you used to be every fruit that i thought was given me that i could breathe that i could run away from each mistake i'll say i'll say

we'll fight all night.
