Terminal, Maps

I don't mind if we never make it to where we're headed as long as we don't end up here we need to find our own way believe in something we half made we're making good time remember where we were last year driving all around this tired town looking for something to do and telling ourselves we need to find our own way believe in something we half made we need to find our own way believe in something we half made so many times i dreamt a normal life seeing her at night and what it must feel like to wake up in my bed no ringing in my head it's been sometime it's been sometime it's based on love we'll never know what the world could be where this could go called home to say I'm doing better think I've finally may have myself together
