

Terra Atlantica, Forces of the Oceans, Unite!

From the great atlantic hall
Mighty seahorses ride.
Sending out a distress call
To the towers of light.

All hear my words: We are left again on our own
The lord of the waters has turned to ... stone.

Down below where demons dwell
Hades laughs at his prey.
Welcome to the underworld
You are destined to stay.

Now we must rise and we must be ready to fight.
Force of the oceans ... unite.

From the dark abyss of the world
We are riding
Ride as fast as the wind
And we're striking
To the battle with hearts of metal
The forces are on their way
Raise the ocean, defend the kingdom today

We stand up and fight - Fight - Fight - Fight
Stand up and fight - Fight - Fight - Fight
Stand up and fight

From the realms of the oceans we ride
With swords and harpoons at our side
March through the endless tide
Saving Altantica's light

We will never give in, we will fight
Raise the sails and our banners up high
Across the raging battlefields our voices will be heard

From the dark abyss of the world
We are riding
Ride as fast as the wind
And we're striking
To the battle with hearts of metal
The forces are on their way
Raise the ocean, defend the kingdom today

From the dark abyss of the world
We are riding
Ride as fast as the wind
And we're striking
To the battle with hearts of metal
The forces are on their way
Raise the ocean, defend the kingdom today

We stand up and fight - Fight - Fight - Fight
Stand up and fight - Fight - Fight - Fight
Stand up and fight
