

Tesseract, Legion

Fill my eyes with blur
Stare into the sun
Linger just enough
To blindness I succumb

A monastery of hate swells deep and forever
Spectres rise and descend into the river
A memory dwells

A monastery of hate swells deep and forever
Forever, forever, forever, forever

I can be guilty free
Don't you see?
In a world designed for you and me
Holding on to echelons
Messianic deformations
Control nations
We're all holding on

I can be guilty free
Don't you see?
In a world designed for you and me
Holding on to echelons
Messianic deformations
Controlled patience

I bind you
Now you believe in nothing

I bind you
Now you believe in nothing

In my dreams I was innocent
My skin unbroken, eyes open
On a distant sphere
Before these walls surrounded me
Made me disappear

Thrown into the grey
In the ruins I remain
Lead me home
From the only world I've ever known
And branded heathen
I have lost the battle on both sides
Lead me home into the sun

I've been dreaming
Anxious to the core
I don't want to feel this way
Same as yesterday
Please lead me home
