

The Actress Adorable, When Did Summer Begin

Oh when did summer begin?
With mosquitoes flying
Like fighter pilots
Loose on the wind
And like little vampires
They live off sucking
The blood from, our skin
And with their bellies filled up
They will all take off again
You might as well have been one of them
Holding my cigarette like a tiki torch
I'm just fending them off
And then you whispered all things
You wanted us to be,
I don't disagree with you at all
This was supposed to be
For you and me and nothing more
So we should take this chance tonight
To make this moment never end
No it's never gonna end
We gotta chance it all tonight
Just tonight

Oh when did summer begin?
With dragonflies dancing
SO elegantly
Loose on the wind
And with the stars shining
Never quite stealing the daylight
Sunrise returning
Never quite fading
Until it's night time again
You might as well have been one of them
Holding my cigarette like a tiki torch
I'm just fending them off
And then you whispered all things
You wanted us to be,
I don't disagree with you at all
This was supposed to be
For you and me and nothing more
So we should take this chance tonight
To make this moment never end
No it's never gonna end
We gotta chance it all tonight
Just tonight

You came to this apartment
Hoping to find a good time
I guess you found it
I guess you found me
[x3]
Eyes to the ceiling
Your lungs barely breathing
Your heart's filled with feeling
But it's feeling that's empty
Eyes to the ceiling
And then you whispered all things
You wanted us to be,
For you and me and nothing more

So we should take this chance tonight
Just tonight
