The Afters, Someday

Ready or not the years are blurring Running away the mind is turning Skip to the end to find the meaning Theoughts are fading, yet I wonder still Like it or not your eyes are open Playing around, the circles going Face of a child, your mind is old The clock ran down before I could begin

I wish we all could win I wish we all could smile I wish we all could make our mothers proud

Want it or not you can't just leave it Throw it away, I can't believe it Walking for days, I know you'll see that Times are changing, soon we'll be the same

I wish we all could win
I wish we all could smile
I wish we all could make our mothers proud

Someday, Someday, Someday You'll come around Someday, Someday, Someday Your time will come

There's nothing more that I can do I know we all can make throught I hope that someday you will see

I wish we all could win I wish we all could smile I wish we all could make our mothers proud

Someday, Someday, Someday You'll come around Someday, Someday, Someday Your time will come
