

The All-American Rejects, Beekeeper's Daughter

Laaadadadadaaa

I've been known a thousand ways
Choked a hundred hearts in half as many days
Oh no, I think so

And I get so lost inside this city
You ugly girls all look so pretty, it's true
What am I supposed to do?

I still got you away
Look out your window
What do you see?
You don't see me

You're a pretty little flower
I'm a busy little bee
Honey, that's all you need to see
I can take you for an hour
But then I'm gonna leave
Honey I know you'll wait for me

Laaadadadadaaa

You're all alone but you understand
That we're too young to start making plans of green
Monogamy's not a? part of me

And I know my line and is just a sin
When I swear to you I'm gonna do it again
I'm not making any friends

I just wanted you to wait
There out your window
What do you see?
You don't see me

Cause you're a pretty little flower
But I'm a busy little bee
Honey, that's all you need to see
I can take you for an hour
Baby then I'm gonna leave
Honey I know you'll wait for me

Laaadadadadaaa
Ladadadaadadadadaaa

Pulled out your picture the other day
(Isn't that sweet?)
You didn't have that much to say
(Cause you wouldn't even leave)
Cause I know that you said
I'm better off on my own and I'm better off dead

I just want you there to wait
Look out your window
What do you see?
You don't see me

Come on, come on, come on
Dirty little flower
Honey that's all you need to see

Maybe two or maybe three

Laaadadadadaaa
Ladadadaadadadadaaa

Honey, that's all you had to say
