The Badloves, Lost

i died at the hands of an angel gently betrayed with a kiss and all my dreams com tumbling down what i've found well i was lost without you i was lost without a trace lost never to be found i cried and turned up the radio so no one would hear i was down so no one knew the trouble i had veah i had it bad well i was lost without you i was lost without a trace lost you know that i was lost without you i was lost loosing faith, i was lost never to be found

under the wide open skies love disappears before my eyes down a road that leads nowhere there i stopped looked around we walk on common ground now everybody's lost the way that i was lost without a trace lost tell you i was lost without you i was lost loosing faith lost never to be found no never to be found sure that i was lost forever to be forever to be well i was