

The Better World, No Name

No Name
(Matt Coban)

I can understand the way you thought of me when I was in your head
You could take my hand and lead me through the walls you built to stand
I can be your friend, help you out in need when times are bad
I know that you don't have the reasons
Nothing you do is in my face
I wish you never thought of leaving

And I appreciate, the smiles you gave me when I was astray
I can never forget, drinking by the bridge you left me there
And I took all of the blame, standing there in jealousy again
I know that you don't have the reasons

Nothing you do is in my face
I wish you never thought of leaving

I know that you don't have the reasons
Nothing you do is in my face
I wish you never thought of leaving
I know that you had all the reasons
But now you're gone, you left me in tears
What will I do when you start leaving?

Oh no, and you aint coming back
Oh I wish that you wished you'd come back
