

The Boy Who Trapped The Sun, Katy

We were watching V.C.R on your couch before D.V.D when I was still quite young You backed me into a corner, when I was trying to escape my friends said you had no shoes on, when you chased me down the street

Dont say you love me
Dont be too hasty
'cos if you do Im running out the door

With hindsight I could have acted differently but in truth it seemed appropriate for one like me running out of yer front door, like a scene from a s**t movie Im sorry that you had to chase me, in bare feet down the street

Dont say you love me
Dont be too hasty
'cos if you do Im running out the door

Now they have invented D.V.D and I think I've learned a bit since that day but theres still time for a repeat, everyone has a front door well it takes time to be thoughtfull, and its easy to run away

Dont say you love me
Dont be too hasty
'cos if you do Im running out the door
Dont say you love me
Dont be too hasty
'cos if you do Im running out the door
