

The Buzzcocks, Something's Gone Wrong Again

tried to find my sock but I know that it's lost something's gone wrong again need a shave, cut myself, need a new blade
and again
and again
and again
again

tried to fry an egg, broke the yolk, no joke
look at my watch just to tell the time but the hands come off mine something's gone wrong again
and again
and again
and again
again

nothing ever happens to people like us except we miss the bus
something goes wrong again need a smoke, use my last 50p, but the machine is broke
and again
and again
and again
again

and again
and again
and again
again

and again
and again
and again
again

turned up early in time for our date but then we turn up late
need a drink, go to the pub, but the bugger shuts

and again
and again
again
ah something goes wrong again
