The Corrs, Nobody Knows

i was on a street with a common name i prayed for love yeah i even begged i had a vision of you that carried me through now it's just magic worlds in a shaman's dream i fear no man, i fear no pain i had a vision of you that carried me through and nobody really knows what i would do for you nobody really knows how much i love you nobody really knows, nobody knows nobody knows, nobody knows i cleared my mind and i turned around grateful to the one who had laid me down i was silent in love pourin down from above like so much rain it fell and pierced my brains the trees all alive with their colors like the dreams of man i had a vision of you that carried me through and nobody really knows what i would do for you now nobody really knows how much i love you baby nobody really knows, nobody knows nobody knows, nobody knows
