

The Do, Aha

It came up on a day I was having a nap
It came up on a day I was catching the gnats it was a trap
it came up on a day I was patting the cat A happy summer day it was simple as that it was a trap
this time
I fell in your lap
this time
fell into your trap
I was hanging out with the boys
When you kicked me out
It came up on a day I was building with haste
A pretty sandcastle away from the waves
And then the rain poured down you came up with a smile as I started to cry I said I was alright
But you told me to cut the crap this time you caught me alive
I had my head in the clouds
I thought no one could track me down Til I got shot in the back A little girl came and took me by the hand
I had no choice as she said she knew the way
A little girl said she wanted me to play
I had no choice or she said we would be late Ok I wasn't alright
I had my head in the clouds
I was doing nothing at all til you shook me up
