

The Jammy Dodgers, Spontaneous Combustion

We think there's some confusion about this revolution and we don't want ti to happen unless you make it happen and we think it's a crazy notion to think there's wheels in motion 'cause when it's time for action who's exploding who's relaxing? we're not the revolutionaries we are the voices for the fucked up stories when's the time gonna come? time for what? time for change! for now we're trying to say the world is still insane what are you gonna do? we're gonna sing we're gonna dance we're gonna yell and scream until you are convinced we're fucking pissed we're radical but music can't change everything
