

The Monkees, Party

Now that the party's over
Now that the noise is through
Now that the room is empty
There's only me and you
I think that I might just fall in love with you, with you
There were so many people trying to talk to you
Telling you how they need you
Trying to get to you
I think that I might just fall in love with you with you

Party to my head (???)
Party (???)

Didn't seem to matter early on
But now that the people have gone
I think that I might just fall in love with you, with you

Now that you know how I feel
Everything's up to you
Now that the party's over
Tell me hat I should do
I think that I might just fall in love with you, with you...
