

The Plot In You, Divide

Is this a nightmare
Where no one fights fair
I get the same stare
Don't risk thinking

We're barely human
We self-abuse and
What's so confusing?
Just keep sleeping

Trapped within our flesh and blood
Medicated till we're done
Cus you're sick, you're bred into it
Our families fed into it
Oh, it's so pathetic
We'll never break free

The truths alive
You fail the soul
So paralyzed
You choose a side

They will take it all
They will take it all
Choose a side

They will take it all
They will take it all
Join the divide

They'll entertain you
Control the ways to
Can it sustain through Generations

You feel connected
Through self-expression
Don't ask a question
Or they might kill you

Trapped within our flesh and blood
The Separation has begun
Cus you're sick, you're bred into it
Our families fed into it
Oh, it's so pathetic

I can't fucking take it

We falter as they flourish
They fill their banks with lies
We see our peace discouraged
Our will to fight subsides
