The Rapture, How Deep Is Your Love?

All the love that you're giving me It helps me see what's right All my life now you've given me A chance to see your light

All the feeling I have for you Let it come on through When I cry you heal my pain Help me come to you

On down the dead-end street It's in my feet behind Sun is shining right on my face This is the place to find

When it's dark your tears are few It's just me and you Give me what I need to live Help me come to you

Let me hear that song

On this journey you've given me I'm walking off the time Now you're walking right next to me The mountains we will climb

All the feeling I have for you Standing in your shoes When I cry you heal my pain Help me come unglued

Let me hear that song

How deep is your love Oh how deep is your love

Let me hear that song How deep is your love Oh how deep is your love

Hallelujah Hallelujah
