

The Saturdays, Vulnerable

Felt the heat of the fire
Caught a cold from the rain
Love just left me standing with nothing but a name
Picked my heart off the ground
As I said to the sky
Never will I let somebody
Ever make me cry
But just a smile from you
Tore through my defences
It made no sense
Now I gotta confide and tell the truth
Cuz boy I'm left wide open
Hoping you won't leave me broken Chorus.
You think
By now I've seen it all
That my heart
Should be indestructable
but your touch
Made it impossible cuz underneath it all
I'm vulnerable
