

The Smashing Pumpkins, Hummer

Faith lies in the ways of sin
I chased the charmed but I don't want them anymore

And in their eyes I was alive, a fool's disguise
Take me away from you

Shame my tongue, fat with promise all along
When I woke up from that sleep, I was happier than I'd ever been

When you decide that your life is a prize
Renew and revive, It's alright honey
It's alright, yeah...

Happiness will make you wonder
Will I feel OK?
It scares the disenchanted
Far away...

Yeah I want something new
But what am I supposed to do about you
Yeah I love you, it's true...

Life's a bummer, when you're a hummer
Life's a drag...

Ask yourself a question, anyone but me
I ain't free
Ask yourself a question, anyone but me
I ain't free

Do you feel... Love is real?
