

The Spill Canvas, The Truth

What if I led a different life, would you stay?
What if you could only speak the truth, what would you say?

Time doesn't wait for anyone.
There is a part in every day when I lie to myself and say that it's okay.
Cause if I don't I think I'll go insane
But the truth is I only have myself to blame.

Explain to me how you're so damn naive.
Think I don't see?
Forget what I said, you're only good in bed or on your knees.

Time doesn't wait for anyone.
There is a part in every day when I lie to myself and say that it's okay.
Cause if I don't I think I'll go insane
But the truth is I only have myself to blame.

Time doesn't wait for anyone.
There is a part in every day when I lie to myself and say that it's okay.
Cause if I don't I think I'll go insane
But the truth is I only have myself to blame.

There is a part in every day when I lie to myself and say that it's okay.
