

The Starting Line, Break Up Day

Before the sun is down today I have a feeling of the words that she'll say putting all my feelings to a close my friends already know just let me keep my dignity just say it to my face or understand what it's like to give a second chance we'll see tonight
I'll stand
In the light
So you can count how many tears fall from my eyes
this time I'll be alright
my heart can't get any worse
Today is just another break up day
It's my least favorite holiday
I think this time I'll stand up for myself While you sit down
What's gonna happen anyway
I guess it's best you gave up right away
We can't be friends Moving so fast headed for the end we're done
tonight
I'll stand
In the light
So you can count how many tears fall from my eyes
tonight
I'll stand
In the light
So you can count how many tears fall from my eyes
