

The Starting Line, Cheek To Cheek (The Real Version)

Bound to say something, eyes closed,
It's cold, and I'm home
I feel like nothing again,
Pretending not to care, but I care,
And I care, don't say another word

Our time was worthless and I tried
We started over and over again as we let go
We held each other, held hands
Held standards and grudges
That's when I let you know
I guess that goes to show

Just what I've been going through
More nights of hugging my pillow, oh
Replaying memories, please

Sing a song for me;
And tell me how you'll never leave my side
I'll meet you at 7
I miss you already
Goodbye to you
The last goodbye I'll ever say to you

Our time was worthless and I tried
We started over and over again
As we let go
We held each other, held hands
Held standards and grudges
That's when I let you know
I guess that goes to show

Sing a song for me
And tell me how you'll never leave my side
I'll meet you at 7
I miss you already
Goodbye to you
The last goodbye I'll ever say

And I tried so hard
And I've done my part
And not to mention most to all of yours
Try and feel
Try and listen
Try and think of what you're missin
Try and look into my eyes
Try
Goodbye.

Sing a song for me
And tell me how you'll never leave my side
I'll meet you at 7
I miss you already
Goodbye to you
The last goodbye I'll ever to say to you

Replaying memories
You'll never leave my side
