

The Sweet, Should

I gave up.
I know things won't get better.
Closed the door and talked about the weather.
I went home.
You would wait forever.
I'll go first.
We shouldn't be together.

And after all, what did I say?
"You should've stayed."

I gave up.
I know things won't get better.
Closed the door.
Hear your me... whatever.

And after all, what did I say?
"You should've stayed."

I can hear my heart under the floor.
Beating uncontrollably for more.
Now I see the light under closed doors.
I'm better now.

So let it out,
let it all out.

And after all, what did I say?
"You should've stayed."
And after all, what did I say?
"I should've stayed."
