The Swellers, Good Luck (Schwag's Song)

I only found comfort in feline friends But who would've thought that I'd need a cat scan Ironic and unfortunate Iconic when on life support So I feel the sting and I hold my breath The IV is burning, I couldn't have guessed Everything in my life would feel like a mess... I'm not crazy, I swear my view is hazy, I'm aware all I want is to feel normal again All I want is to feel normal again You are what you eat But don't make me a vegetable Let me live and breathe I'm not meant for the hospital Well I should keep going even though rough times, I'm growing It's the bigger picture that I can't forget It's the bigger picture that I can't forget I'm not crazy, İ swear my view is hazy, I'm aware all I want is to feel normal again All I want is to feel normal again...
