The Who, Don't Look Away

Don't go and hide Yesterday you were my girlfiend If you do My inside goes around and around in a whirlwind

There's a stone in my shoe So I can't catch you up My head's in a lion's mouth Wants to eat me up Right here today Don't look away I've always been true And I still love you So don't look away There's a lot you can do To get me away You've got to stay Don't look away Don't look away

I once heard you say If I ever was down you would help me Now my head's being chewed up You pretend that you don't see

There's a stone in my shoe So I can't catch you up My head's in a lion's mouth Wants to eat me up Right here today Don't look away I've always been true And I still love you So don't look away There's a lot you can do To get me away You've got to stay Don't look away Don't look away

I've always been true And I still love you So don't look away There's a lot you can do To get me away You've got to stay Don't look away Don't look away
