

Timo Tolkki, Warrior of Light

Warrior of light

Warrior of light - look into your heart tell me what do you see

Warrior of light

Warrior of light - righteousness, compassion and heart of gold

Warrior of light

Warrior of light - purity of soul Universe on your side

Warrior of light

Warrior of light - you were born to serve and protect and to help

Now you know what you've been waiting for

All your life and not it's in your hands my dear

You must choose which path you will take from now

Don't get lost to the desert of mind

Times are changing so fast these days

End of time, some say, but I will tell you know

There is hope if we let light guide our paths

This may be our chance to change

You have fear, you have guilt, you have hatred

This can lead you to the darkness

So you must be careful now
