Timo Tolkki, You've Come a Long Way

You don't remember me, I remember you I know you're scared like once I was Sitting here by the shore, like I did before And thinking 'bout the winding road But that road is so long You must be strong Learn from each day Never giving up

Though the ocean is deep You must carry one Towards the reason why you're here

Keep the love in your heart We'll never be apart We'll meet again onde day you'll see We all have a destiny chosen by ourselves But later you will understand

You were born with a gift
A secret to hold
Your heart is gold you got to carry on
Soon your pain turns to peace
There's no more fear
And my child we'll meet again
