

Todd Rundgren, Come As You Are

Would it be wrong of me
To interrupt your little fun
You always run away
If I've got something serious to say
But you belong to me
If you belong to anyone
And when I call you, you must come
Come as you are

It isn't every day
I have to ask you to come out
I've never tied your hands
Just don't like to make demands
I've never needed you
The way I need to have you now
So when I call you, you must come
Come as you are

Don't you change a thing
Don't make a move
Only come as you are right now
Think I'm dying for your love
This is everything I ever need
So won't you come as you are right now
Before I die without your love
Forever, crying for your love

And maybe someday
You could be dying for my love

Just remember I'll always belong to you
If I knew if I belong to anyone
And if you need me I will come
So if I call you, you must come
Come as you are

Don't you change a thing
Don't make a move
Only come as you are right now
I think I'm dying for your love (I'm dying)
This is everything I ever need
So won't you come as you are right now
Before I die without your love
I think I'm dying for your love
Can't you see me crying for your love

Dying for your love
Crying for your love
Dying for your love
Can't you feel my love
Don't you want my love
Feels like I'm dying without your love
