

Tom Walker, Freaking Out

At another party, didn't want to go
100 people drinking alone
You're so pretty and you want me to stay
In my head I'm already home

If I could fake it honestly
I would honestly

But there's always a part of me
That's freaking out
All of my anxieties
Are freaking out
Wish I was less uptight
& a Little more like whatever
Tripping over all of my apologies
Just to get somewhere else I don't wanna be

Wish I was less uptight
A Little more like whatever

Drying your eyes, asking for a light
Fighting on the side of the road
Baby don't blame me, maybe ADHD
But I was never diagnosed

If I could fake it honestly
I would honestly

But there's always a part of me
That's freaking out
All of my anxieties
Are freaking out
Wish I was less uptight
& a Little more like whatever
Tripping over all of my apologies
Just to get somewhere else I don't wanna be
Wish I was less uptight
And a Little more like whatever

I'm a little past out my depth
Drowning in the Deep end
& I know you can't understand
I'm freaking out

I'm a little past, pull me out
Fake a smile, calm down
& I know you can't understand
I'm freaking out
