

Tom Walker, Now You're Gone (ft. Zara Larsson)

of all the battles that I've won they don't matter now you're gone nothing matters now you're gone of all battles that I've won
nothing matters now you're gone

I said I'm done with you but I can help it when I lay down still think of you keep me awake ayt night and why do I let it get so far? how do we end whit broken harts how do we end whit broken harts, broken harts?

so was it really worth it?
caught in the moment while we burn it down no one's perfect try to connect and we turn it round well, I'm over this game no one's taking the blame

everything we've been criticizing well, I don't wanna live like that overthinking and analyzing never gonna take it back I thought I was winning but I was dying everything we never had losing you is what I want fighting

nothing matters now you're gone
of all battles that I've won
nothing matters now you're gone

well, you said you hated me tired to forget but iyt says whit me what scares me is when I'm locked up got me feeling fre doesn't it come from the heart?
words cut deep cut deeper thabn scars though that you were perfect

I'm too proud to call you but I;m still thinking of you
I think I love you
