

Tom Walker, The Best Is Yet to Come

There's nothing you could tell me
That would make me walk away
Cause in my eyes you're perfect
And there's nothing I would change
I've seen you on your best days
& I'll see you on your worst, my love

And I know sometimes
it feels just like the world is ending
Those days where nothing seems to Go your way
Well with me you really don't have to pretend
That
it's all ok
If you're not ok

Cause I know the last few years have been A test of character remind ourselves on darker days
The best is yet to come
In life I've made a few mistakes
But you were never one
My love

And I know sometimes
it feels just like the world is ending
Those days where nothing seems to
Go your way
Well with me you really don't have to pretend
That
it's all ok
If you're not ok

I'll be here if you need love
If you need strength
Forever by your side
Until the end
With me you really don't have to pretend
It's all ok
If you're not ok

Cause I know sometimes
it feels just like the world is ending
Those days where nothing seems to
Go your way
Well with me you really don't have to pretend
That
it's all ok
If you're not ok

I'll be there my love
I'll be there my love
I'll be there my love
