

Tori Kelly, Sorry Would Go A Long Way

don't seem to wanna hold me like you did before we don't go out to dinner ain't flowers at my door you do a lot of talking there's a word you never say sorry would go a long way

I stared up all night waiting and you forgot to call and I feel so lonely it's like you don't care at all maybe it's your ego or just your foolish pride it's like I am not on your mind you never tell me that you love me what a mess of me you've made it won't make it all better won't make it ok

but sorry would go a long way

I feel the times are changing and maybe you are too I am the same old me but you're a different you so be a man about it and admit you've done me wrong I just wanted you all along

what a mess of me you've made
won't make it ok

and after the heartache after the hurt
why is it so hard to say that one word if it's really over

what a mess of me you've made
won't make it ok
