

Tuatha De Danann, The Delirium Has Just Began

Ruled by the velvet sun we dance in praise of love
Ecstasy in our souls we all are shinning
Claping hands getting on Join the circle
Everything is beautiful embrace the velvet gods

Strange ideas coming Twisted rays around Colours touchin us The delirium ruling on

See that little ones fell this magic tunes
Colourful sunrise eyes with rainbow lights

Surrender to our Sun theres no way to run
This magic all we're on it's really just began

Maybe you are asking why am I so distant of your Way to see the life and why you Only walk straight
Leave away the fears you have on your mind
Open, break the chains you might have inside

What a wonderful way to see!!!
What a special is that harmony!!!
Come on, Come on leave this smoke lead to the marvelous dream that we live shining and laughing

Ruled by the velvet sun we dance in praise of love
Ecstasy in our souls embrace the velvet gods
