

Tune, Disposable

You look for something new
The joy expired, it's time to change
So many faces, different shapes...

And I expired too
You squeezed me like an empty can
As it befits a modern man
With a short attention span

You've got a lot to do
Can't fit me in your busy day
You've got no time, well that's ok
I will love you anyway
I am disposable
So don't delay, consume today
Just use me up and throw away

But till this day
I'm a toy you play
And if I break you take
A new release of me
Under guarantee
Don't hesitate
Buy one and get one free

You look for something cool
In trendy colors that you can choose
To match the colors of your shoes
I'm not enough for you
You want new arrivals,
Various goods
To fit your alternating moods

But till this day
I'm a toy you play
And if I break you take
A new release of me
Under guarantee
Don't hesitate
Buy one and get one free

We all come and go We're disposable x3

We all come and go
I guess you didn't know

We all come and go We're disposable x3

We all come and go
I guess you didn't know
