

Tune, Masquerade

Eyes on you, all stars in a puppet show
Curtains fall, show's done, how adorable!
Concrete shells that seemed unbreakable
Start to crack, make you so vulnerable

Lies cannot disguise
The panic in your eyes
Vain but comfortable
Sight so miserable here

I see through your disguise
What a perfect confinement
Stuck in the cold, too afraid to let go
You're all running in circles
Why can't you move on?
Face with a smile while
You're all telling lies

You think I don't realize
You can't control your own lives
Deep inside, you can't deny
The void within you

(Eyes on you, how adorable!
Do you think you're a part of something beautiful?
I see through, it's just a puppet show
How could you think you're a part of something beautiful?)

You're all telling lies (As it comforts you)
Trying to hide (But I can see through)
Terrified (And so tired) of what's real